Reservation Policy

When making a reservation, we take down your phone number in case there is a duplicate name on the reservation sheet. We do not call you to check in or to see when you will be arriving, in the event that you are late.

We hold your table for a maximum of 15 minutes after your reservation time. After that, we will have to give your table away in the event that we have people on a waiting list.

If you leave a message on the answering machine, we will call to confirm the reservation. If you do not receive a phone call to confirm your reservation, please call again.
